

- 5.6.3. If the evaluation confirms the ability of cognitive impaired peoples capability to evacuate using standard features of building, without assistance, then these people will follow alarm notifications and directional signage to reach safety. If not, then cognitive impaired people should be provided with assistance always to reach them to safety.